Ledville, Colo., Sept. 21.-Five dead bodies lying at the morgue and half a dozen wounded, with damage to property to the amount of $25,000, are the visible effects of last night's lawlessness. It is believed that when all is known the fist of dead and injured will considerably exceed these figures. Everything is quiet, the camp being practically under military rule.

The sixth name was added to the feath list at 6 o'clock this evening by the discovery of the body of Michael Daugherty on the ground near the Em-mett mine, where he fell in the attack of the noters upon the Emmett while flushed with their victory at the Coronado. There were many people in the upper windows and on house roofs, provided with night glasses, who in the brillians. moonlight saw the attack on the Em-ment and the repulse of the rioters. The atchers say that the first volley from the mine was delivered at close range doned shafts in the vicinity to tell. It away their dead and wounded. DEFENSE OF THE EMMETT.

The story of the defense of the Emmett is a thrilling one. Easily accessiblet and surrounded only by a light fence it seems wonderful that it was not quickly overwhelmed, and the buildings demolished. But the fif-teen buckshot found in Daugherty's body and the distory of the awful effect of the first volley from the building show how quickly the moters lost stomach for the blody business. Had this mine been blown up, the great pumps which drain it and many other mines, would have been destroyed and the ensuing the damagef rightful to contemplate, GREAT FALL IN SYMPATHY.

This morning's riot, and particularly the attack upon the fire department, has destroyed much of the public sympathy for the strikers and this fact was evidenced at a largely attended meeting of representative citizens this afternoon. Their proceedings were secret but it is understod that stringent measures were decided upon. Two compa-nies of state militia from Pueblo and Cripple Creek, all under command of Colonel McCoy, arrived at 4:50 this afternon and are now on duty. General Brooks, with several other companies will arrive during the night.

The damage at the Coronado by the and machinery, is now estimated at $25,-000, on which is $12.500

Despite the presence of troops and the unusual quietness of the streets, there is a very uneasy feeling prevalent, it being asserted that there are 500 Winer rifles in the hands of the sctrikers, whose repeated threats against the military are recalled with alarm. It is the general belief, however, that there will be no further trouble, unless the managers begin imopring miners.
